Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 12-13, 17 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Zucherman et al. (US 5,836,948).

Zucherman et al. disclose an implant or “spinal facet cap” having a shim portion 560 that is wedge-shaped in that it has a thick and a thin portion and an alignment portion including two “facet hooks” 554 and 556 wherein the hooks can be made of flexible material and thus the relative distance between the hooks is adjustable (Figs. 67 and 68, col. 13, lines 56-67 and col. 14, lines 1-23).

The introductory statement and all other functional statements of intended use have been carefully considered but are deemed not to impose any structure on the claims distinguishable over the Zucherman et al. implant which is capable of functioning as a spinal facet cap as claimed.

Claims 12 and 29-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fitz (US 5,571,191).

Fitz discloses a “spinal facet cap” having a wedge-shaped shim portion, an alignment portion with a boss, a tongue having an orifice and a facet hook (Figures 3 and 5, col. 2, lines 61-67 and col. 3, lines 1-54). See marked up Figures 3 and 5.

The introductory statement and all other functional statements of intended use have been carefully considered but are deemed not to impose any structure on the claims distinguishable over the Fitz cap which is capable of functioning as a spinal facet cap as claimed.

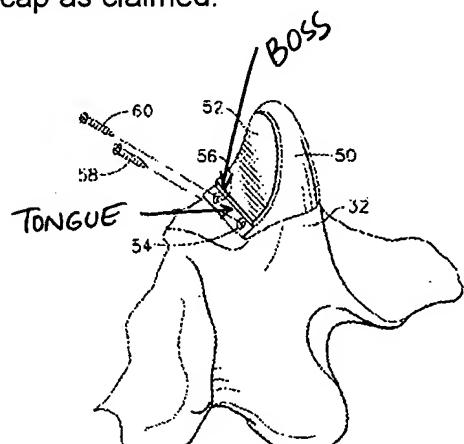

FIG. 3

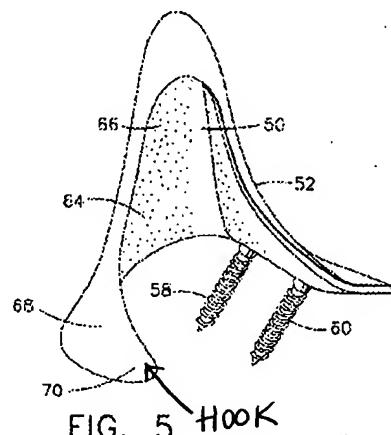

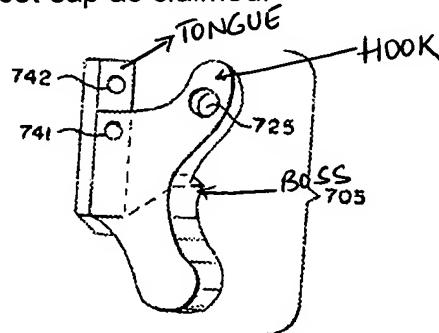

FIG. 5 HOOK

Claims 12 and 29-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Reiley (US 6,610,091).

Reiley discloses a prosthesis or "spinal facet cap" 700 with a shim portion that is wedge shaped in that it tapers to a thinner portion and an alignment portion with a facet hook (Figures 22 and 23). See marked up Figure 22 below.

The introductory statement and all other functional statements of intended use have been carefully considered but are deemed not to impose any structure on the claims distinguishable over the Reiley prosthesis which is capable of functioning as a spinal facet cap as claimed.

Allowable Subject Matter

The indicated allowability of claims 12, 13, 17 and 29-33 is withdrawn in view of the rejections made in this office action. Accordingly, the finality of the office action mailed on January 4, 2005 has been withdrawn. The amendment filed on June 7, 2005 has been entered.

Claims 19-28 are allowed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
